BERRYVILLE, VA., April 9, 1877 The Baptist church at this place yester day gave a unanimous call to the Rev. O Ellyson. The call was made subject to the concurrence of the Winchester church. Neither church is able to support a pastor alone, hence the necessity of concurrence. Mr. Ellyson has preached most acceptably to the church here on several occasions, and in the interest of the churches named, as well as for the promotion of harmonious cooperation with other evangelical denominations, it is very much desired that he may be induced to labor permanently in our

The Young Men's Christian Association recently organized here is receiving the hearty support of all the churches.

I observe that the gubernatorial question is creating much interest all over the State. You say that Richmond has not furnished a Governor within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Battletown can do better than that. She never did furnish a Governor, and, between the aspirations of Winchester. THE SOUTHERN HOTEL IN ST. LOUIS

More Than Fifty Persons Perished in the Flames.

SHOCKING MIDNIGHT VISITATION-THE LODGE MASONS OF MISSOURI AMONG THE DEAD-KATE CLAXTON SAFE-SOUTHERN-UPON THE BUILDING AND CONTENTS NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS-OTHER

St. Louis, April 11.-The Southern Hotel was burned at 2 o'clock this morning. The loss of life is appalling. It was at first supposed to be two hundred, but is now ascertained to be fifty. Many were killed by story windows. Kate Claxton, the actress, who so narrowly escaped from the Brooklyn horror, had both legs broken in jumping from a third-story window. The fire originated in the upper stories.

The windows in the upper stories were crowded with shricking men and women, whom it seemed impossible to save. A few were rescued by ladders placed on the Fourth-street portico, but on the other three sides of the building, bounded by Fifth, Walnut, and Elm streets, the longest ladders fell far short of reaching the windows. Mr. Peter Blow, son of the former Ministhe sixth floor; and succeeded, after strenuries in height, and Mr. Blow thinks that the majority of the inmates of the two upper stories of the building must have perished Two men, unrecognized, were killed by a third one was badly mangled.
